48 HOURS

01/07/17

48 HOURS: “Crime and Punishment” - a report on what happens to a family after a murder rips them apart; and the nearly 25-year quest by Tippy Dhaliwal and Jeanette Marine, two California women, who are determined to deny their step-father Dennis Ott’s parole for the murder of their mother Phonthip Ott. Each time Ott comes up for parole, the sisters are there to fight for their mother and vow to never give up. The two women are steadfast in the belief that their step-father Dennis Ott, murdered their mother. In 1992, Phonthip Ott’s body was found by a fisherman in the Sacramento River in Sacramento, California. The police investigation dragged on for nearly two years. Eventually, Ott was charged with the murder. He was tried, convicted and sentenced to life in prison with the possibility of parole. Ott has maintained his innocence, which could be a sticking point in the parole hearings. Admitting guilt or showing remorse isn’t mandated, but legal experts believe it goes a long way with those deciding whether prisoners are paroled. The daughters realize that their fight for justice did not end with a guilty verdict; they must face Ott year-after-year to keep him in prison. Tippy Dhaliwal has been diagnosed with cancer, but she and Jeanette vow never to give up. At this hearing, Ott is again denied parole and must remain in prison. He will be eligible for another hearing in two-and-a-half years. On-screen text graphic: Dennis Ott’s parole hearing has been moved up to October 2017. Tippy’s health is better and both she and Jeanette plan to continue fighting Dennis Ott’s release. ## PREEMPTION

01/21/17

48 HOURS: “Innocence Lost” (9:00–10:00p) – an updated followup to “Who Killed These Girls” (OAD: 03/25/92) and “Deadly Encounters” (OAD: 09/14/98). Eighteen years after 48 HOURS reported the 1991 murders of four teenage girls who were found dead in an Austin, Texas yogurt shop -- presented is a review of the case, and the new evidence that could potentially overturn everything police thought they knew. The girls had been tied up, stripped down, at least one was raped, shot in the head and their naked bodies were stacked in a corner then set on fire. In the weeks after the murders, authorities received countless tips, many false confessions and interrogated teenagers Maurice Pierce, Michael Scott, Robert Springsteen and Forrest Welborn. With no solid evidence, they were released. There were no developments in the investigation until 1999, when new detectives assigned to the case arrested the original four suspects. Charges against Welborn and Pierce were eventually dropped. Scott and Springsteen each stood trial for murder. Both were convicted, with Springsteen sentenced to death and Scott sentenced to life in prison. On appeal, the convictions were overturned when DNA evidence did not match any of the suspects. Officials then said there is no statute of limitations for murder, and they will continue the investigation until the person(s) responsible are brought to justice. For now, Scott and Springsteen are free; and the girls’ families are still dealing with the deaths of their daughters. Update: Today, investigators now suggest that there was a fifth man involved in the murders. Other interested parties believe that two men, mentioned by witnesses and never identified, hold the key to the murders. Original detective John Jones sees them only as potential witnesses. The investigation remains in limbo. 2017 On-screen text graphic: If you have any information on this case, police encourage you to call 512-472-TIPS. Under Texas law, neither Robert Springsteen nor Michael Scott is entitled to compensation for their wrongful convictions until a court officially declares their innocence. 01/21/17      48 HOURS: “Devil’s Island” (10:00-11:00p) – a second updated rebroadcast on the disappearance and death of Yvonne Baldelli, a California woman who moved to Panama with her boyfriend Brian Brimager, an ex-Marine, who turned out not to be as perfect to her as he seemed. Baldelli routinely sent happy emails to family members, but they suddenly stopped. About a month after the last message, Yvonne’s sister Michele Valenzuela got a text from Brimager saying he was back in the U.S., but without Baldelli. He had sent an email that he and Yvonne had broken up, which was somehow overlooked by her family. Police went to Panama and back to San Diego. The family learned that Baldelli and Brimager were not as happy as had been suggested. They learned Brimager was leading a second life and had gotten married to Kristin Werkoven. Even though Michele Valenzuela was sick with cancer, her hunch about the origins of an email allegedly from her sister Yvonne, set her on a mission to prove Brimager had murdered Yvonne. In Panama, police searched for a body. The FBI joined the investigation. Finally, forensic analysis yielded a positive result: Brimager was arrested by the FBI and is now in custody. Since the arrest, Yvonne Baldelli’s remains have been found: she never left Panama. Original On-screen text graphic: Michele Valenzuela lost her brave battle to cancer last week. The United States is in talks with Panama to move the prosecution of Brian Brimager for Yvonne’s murder to San Diego. 06/23/15 UPDATE: In April 2015, five months after the death of Michele Valenzuela, and following complex negotiations between Panama and the United States, it was announced that the United States will prosecute Brian Brimager for the murder of Yvonne Baldelli, as a foreign murder of a U.S. national. Now, the family is one step closer to justice for Yvonne and to bringing her remains back to the United States for burial. On-screen text graphic for the 06/23/15 updated rebroadcast: Brian Brimager is due in court next week. A federal judge is likely to set a trial date. 01/21/17 UPDATE: In 2016, the case was headed for trial when investigators made a dramatic discovery: Yvonne’s blood and DNA were found under a machete handle that Brian owned. This was the tool used to dismember Yvonne. Within a week, Brimager pleaded guilty to second degree murder. On-screen text graphic: Kristin and Brian Brimager are still married. She continues to support and visit him in federal prison. Brimager's prison term ends in February 2037. 01/28/17 48 HOURS: SOLVE THIS CASE: "Who Killed Kay Wenal" - an investigation into the unsolved murder of Kay Wenal, who was found murdered inside her Georgia home in 2008. The case has been difficult to solve because there were no fingerprints, no evidence of a break-in and the killer took the weapon with him. Kay did not seem to have any enemies and her husband had a solid alibi. The only clues in the case are an expletive-filled cut-and-paste note sent to a newspaper and a police sketch of a suspect seen the day before and the day of the murder by a neighbor. Investigators are asking the public-at-large to help solve the crime. Gwinnett County Police Sergeant John Richter and Lieutenant Steven Shaw, the current detectives assigned to the case, and investigators hired by Hal Wenal -- John Inosigna, Ned Timmons, a retired FBI agent and his ex-wife, investigator Kathleen Timmons, and retired Gwinnett County Police Lieutenant Charlie Bishop discuss the case -- including their theories. Former FBI profiler Mary Ellen O'Toole discusses her opinions regarding the note sent to the Atlanta Journal-Constitution. The hope is that exposing critical evidence to a nationwide audience on television, online and on social media platforms will help to solve this case. Also, interviewed: Pam Sleeper (Kay Wenal's sister); David Hughes (contractor/business associate). On-screen text graphic: Anyone with information is asked to contact: Gwinnett County Criminal Investigation Division anonymous tip line at 770-513-5390. ## 48 HOURS

48 HOURS: “Guilty Until Proven Innocent” - a report about the cases against Dameon Pinkins and Roosevelt Glenn: two Indiana men, a 1989 gang rape, and the DNA evidence at the time that did not tie either man to the crime. Yet, both were convicted, spending years in prison before new DNA technology changed their fates. Pinkins and Glenn vowed they were innocent. Prosecutors had evidence and a victim who said she could identify one of the five alleged attackers. At trial, prosecutors also argued that DNA testing was new and unreliable -- both were convicted. Their cases drew the attention of Indiana law professor Fran Watson who, along with her students, continued to search for clues over a fifteen-year period. Everything changed for them when a new technology called TrueAllele came along, which could separate the genetic mixture in DNA evidence. This new technology has the potential to change the outcome in thousands of cases nationwide. Glenn had been released from prison after 17 years for good behavior, and Pinkins was released after 26 years when prosecutors overturned their convictions. On-screen text graphic: Just this week Roosevelt Glenn's conviction was officially overturned. 48 HOURS: “Murder in Beverly Hills” (9:00-10:00p) - a report on new details in the ongoing saga of millionaire Robert Durst Featured in this episode is the first in-depth look at an unprecedented recent interview that infamous millionaire and alleged killer Robert Durst gave to a prosecutor looking to put him in prison. Also included is a review of the allegations about his missing wife; his alleged ties to the 2000 murder of his friend Susan Berman, who was shot dead in her home -- a case the police have spent years trying to solve. Durst wasn't considered a suspect in Berman's death until nine months later when he was involved with the death of Morris Black in Galveston, Texas. Durst maintained he accidentally killed Black in self-defense and he then cut up Black's body. A jury eventually acquitted him of murder. Next week, Durst is expected to agree to a plea deal on a gun charge in New Orleans so he can face trial in California for the murder of Susan Berman. Will that trial clear his name in a case that has dogged him for years -- as attorney Dick DeGuerin suggests -- or will he end up spending the rest of his life in jail, where investigators say he should have been all along? On-screen text graphic: Next week a secret witness in the Susan Berman murder case will reportedly offer new incriminating testimony about Robert Durst. 48 HOURS: “The Strange Life of Dr. Schwartz” (10:00-11:00p) - an investigation into the death of beloved physician Dr. Steven Schwartz, found dead, seemingly because of a botched robbery; how his life came to such a violent end; and insight into a series of mysteries connected to him and his family. Schwartz, a wealthy well-respected kidney specialist was found dead -- shot, stabbed and beaten. Police discovered his body in his home after his second wife Rebecca called to report a robbery. Police investigation uncovered a family with strained relationships, different allegations on what may have happened and a secret life that Dr. Schwartz had hidden from his offspring. A year after the murder, police arrested Leo Anton Stragaj, an employee of Schwartz's. Stragaj admitted to seeing the body and not calling police, he says due to his immigration status. He says he did not commit murder and says that Schwartz's wife had something to do with it, because she asked him to find someone to kill Dr. Schwartz and has set him up. Also, uncovered in the investigation were reports about Schwartz killing a dentist in 1961 in a botched robbery attempt in New Mexico. He spent nine years in prison before his sentence was commuted. He and his accomplice, Phillip Dyer, went on to live accomplished lives. Carter Schwartz, his son from his first marriage, was completely unaware of this information. Friends and colleagues suspect that Rebecca Schwartz was involved. Police believe that Rebecca Schwartz used this information to blackmail Dr. Schwartz. Rebecca Schwartz has sold the medical practice, moved to Wisconsin, and has caused heartache for another woman. Carter Schwartz has a civil suit filed against Rebecca Schwartz. On-screen text graphic: The gun and the knife used to kill Doctor Schwartz have never been found. 48 HOURS: “Eleven Hundred Miles to Murder” - an investigation into the 2015 murder of Dr. Teresa Sievers, a Bonita Springs, Florida doctor murdered inside her home and the investigation that led to two suspects eleven hundred miles away in Missouri. Police initially suspected her husband Mark Sievers, but he had an airtight alibi. A tip led police on a 1,000-mile trip that took the case in an unexpected direction. Mark Sievers believed there might be a tie to other suspicious deaths of doctors around the country. Eventually, Mark Sievers became a person of interest. Two months after the murder, police arrested two men in Missouri and charged them with Dr. Sievers murder: Curtis Wayne Wright (aka Wayne Wright), and Jimmy Ray Rogers (aka "The Hammer") traveled from Missouri to Florida and murdered Dr. Sievers. What would be the motive? Police learned that Wayne Wright was a friend of Mark Sievers; that Mark had taken out five life insurance policies on Dr. Sievers; that the two had an open marriage, money problems and other serious issues. Eight months after the murder, facing the death penalty, Wayne Wright admitted to killing Dr. Sievers and accused Mark Sievers of being the mastermind behind the crime. Mark Sievers was then charged with the murder of his wife. Mark Sievers and Jimmy "The Hammer" Rogers have both pleaded not guilty and will be tried together. On-screen text graphic: Mark Sievers and Wayne Wright are being held in different jails. 48 HOURS: "Stalking: Out of the Shadows" (9:00-10:00p) and "Stalked" (10:00-11:00p) - a two-part investigation into stalking -- the victims, the stalkers, the dangers and long-term psychological damage this torment causes; and the efforts by actress Pauley Perrette to change ineffective laws that do not protect the victims. Also, included: a report on the stalking death of singer Christina Grimmie, who was shot dead by an obsessed fan she didn't even know was stalking her online; and an interview with Justin Massler -- a serial stalker with a diagnosed mental illness, who was arrested for stalking Ivanka Trump.

(1) Stalking: Out of the Shadows (9:00-10:00p) - the death of Christina Grimmie is detailed. She was shot dead by an obsessed fan she did not know was stalking her who showed up at a concert armed with two handguns and pulled the trigger, killing Grimmie and himself. The case was like the 1989 death of actress Rebecca Schaeffer, in that the stalker fantasizes that he is in a relationship with his victim and wants a permanent bond. Stalking is a silent crime with many victims afraid to speak out, fearing they will enrage their stalker. Also, included: actress Pauley Perrette, a stalking victim herself, talks about her efforts to change stalking laws and the bonds she has formed with other victims. Perrette does not think her stalker will ever leave her alone.

(2) Stalked (10:00-11:00p) - some stalkers become obsessed with people they do not know. Leonora Claire has been stalked by a man she met only once, who read about her in a magazine and came to an art exhibit she curated. Serial stalker Justin Massler has been obsessed with her for nearly six years and she has lived in constant fear, believing he could harm her at any time. Massler, who has been diagnosed with a mental illness, will not leave her alone. In 2010, he was arrested for stalking Ivanka Trump, and previously targeted the Kardashian family. Now, the secret service is interested in him because of the Trump connection. Included is an interview with Massler, whom anchor Erin Moriarty tracked down and conducted an interview via the internet. His mother says he is living near her in Nevada and is getting medication. He has not contacted Leonora Claire in four months. On-screen text graphic: Christina Grimmie's new single "Invisible" was just released by her family, ZXL Music and Republic Records. She didn’t die – and the kidnapper couldn’t silence her. This is story of Schuett’s will to live, her unwavering focus on pushing police to find her kidnapper, and how through the trauma she found a purpose in life by advocating for other crime victims. Schuett was alone in her bedroom, when she woke up in the arms of a man carrying her outside of the apartment building where she lived with her mom. He said he was an undercover police officer and that they would meet up with her mother. Both were lies. He took her to the field, tried to strangle her, and raped her and slashed her throat before driving away. When she came to, she couldn't scream, couldn't lift her head or even move. She was found by children playing in the field. Her assailant didn't count on Schuett living, let alone having an acute ability to recall critical details of the man. While in the hospital, Schuett, struggling with a fear of men and police because of the attack, began writing notes describing her kidnapper. His name was Dennis. She was also able to give a forensic sketch artist a detailed description of him. Despite the details, years went by with no suspects or closure. The case was passed between detectives, and each time it felt like she was starting over. Then, 18 years after the attack, Schuett got a call from Detective Tim Cromie from the Dickinson Police Department. He was now on her case. Cromie vowed to do everything he could until the end of his career to get the answers she so longed to find. Cromie partnered with FBI Special Agent Richard Rennison to work on the case. In September 2017, utilizing DNA technology that was not available before, Rennison got a call: the kidnapper's identity had been established. His name is Dennis Earl Bradford. On-screen text graphic: Jennifer has become a fierce advocate for other crime victims. 48 HOURS: "Death on Valentine's Day" – a retitled and updated rebroadcast of "What Did the Children See?" (OAD: 02/20/16), focusing on Curtis Lovelace, a former Quincy, Illinois prosecutor on trial for the second time, for the February 14, 2006 murder of his wife, Corey Lovelace. The main question in this case is the cause of Cory Lovelace's death -- alcohol abuse or murder. Lovelace was an All-American high school athlete who went on to become a prosecutor who seemed to have everything including a successful career and a loving family. On Valentine's Day 2006, Lovelace returned home after dropping his children off at school to find his wife dead. After an investigation, the cause of death was never determined and the case was closed. Eight years later, in 2014, a Quincy detective reopened the case. This investigation determined the cause of death as suffocation. Lovelace was arrested and charged with murder. The case hinged on two things – science and the testimony of the Lovelace children. The first trial resulted in a hung jury and a mistrial was declared. Lovelace has remarried twice since he wife's death. At the time of the second trial, the family was and still is deeply divided: daughter Lyndsey Lovelace has not spoken to her family since Lovelace's arrest and is moving on with her life. His first ex-wife Erika Gomez was a witness at the second trial. Following the second trial, more than ten years after his wife's death, Curtis Lovelace walked out a free man after being found not guilty. Original on-screen text graphic: Lovelace's new trial date is scheduled for May 31st. Curtis Lovelace's bail was set at five million dollars. He remains in jail. On-screen text graphic for the 03/18/17 Rebroadcast: Christine Lovelace adopted Curtis' three sons. Lyndsay was already 18 years old. Christine and Curtis are undecided if they will return to live in Quincy. 48 HOURS: "What Happened in Apartment 1601?" (9:00 – 10:00p) - a report on the 2013 death of Mark Waugh, a 23-year-old man murdered in an apartment in Silver Spring, Maryland after a night of bar-hopping with two friends. Since neither of them could remember what had happened, police employed an unusual method of interrogation. Waugh was stabbed to death in the apartment where his friends Rahul Gupta and his girlfriend Taylor Gould lived. Both Gupta and Gould were bloody and drunk, according to police, and were immediately interrogated, with Gupta apparently confessing to the crime, saying he had caught Mark and Taylor together. Then after the alcohol wore off, everything changed, with both insisting they had no idea what had happened. Gupta and Waugh were longtime friends, with successful jobs. Police struggled to understand what had happened. Police initially believed Taylor Gould's version of events, but took the unusual step of putting Gupta and Gould together alone, and monitored their conversations. Gupta kept trying to blame Gould, yet police still believed Gould's version of events. Further investigation revealed Gupta had a temper and smoked marijuana. Investigation also discovered information from a phone call between father and son after Gupta was arrested in which he told his father what had happened. Gupta was arrested and charged with murder. At trial, Gupta's defense was to point the finger at Taylor Gould. She herself was not much help on the stand; but she never blamed Gupta; she just stated she did not kill Mark Waugh. The jury found Gupta guilty. Though Taylor Gould is legally not guilty, Detective Paula Hamill believes she may have played some role in what happened that night, and that she may have possibly been involved in a relationship with Waugh behind Gupta's back. Original on-screen text

03/25/17      48 HOURS: "The Alternate Suspects" (10:00-11:00p) – a followup to "Playing By the Rules" (OAD: 03/12/16), itself a follow-up to "The Guessing Game" (OAD: 12/06/08), featuring an interview with David Mark Temple, a former football star turned coach who was convicted in 2007 for the 1999 murder of his pregnant wife Belinda, who was shot dead in their Katy, Texas home. He spent nine years in prison, vowing he was innocent. In December 2016, he was released from prison after the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals found he didn't get a fair trial. Temple talks about his life, evidence not admitted in his first trial that he believes can clear him, his family and the future. After years of delays and little evidence, Temple was eventually convicted in 2007, in a trial that pitted two of the biggest names in the legal world: renowned defense attorney Dick DeGuerin and prosecutor Kelly Siegler. Five years later, a new witness came forward. An investigation led Temple's new attorneys to allege that the prosecutor, Siegler, had withheld crucial evidence from the defense. In July 2015, a hearing was held to determine if Temple had received a fair trial. The judge ruled in Temple's favor. The case was then in the hands of a higher court. In December 2016, after nine years in prison, Temple was released. Kim Ogg, the new DA in Harris County has promised to personally review the case and decide whether to drop the charges, or prosecute David Temple all over again. Belinda's family still maintains that Temple is responsible. On-screen text graphic: Stanley Schneider is now handling David Temple's case alone. Belinda Temple's family has asked for a special prosecutor to be assigned before a decision about a retrial for David is reached. Interviewed: David Mark Temple; Steve Clappart (Harris D.A. office investigator); Dean Holtke (Crime Scene Technician); Casie Gotro and Stanley Schneider (Temple's new attorneys); Kelly Siegler (Prosecutor); Dick DeGuerin (original defense attorney). ## EDITORIALS BY GENERAL MANAGER

LEE MEREDITH

At WAFB TV we believe we have an obligation to inform our community and make it better, as well. That's why we formed an editorial board, to take a stand on important issues that affect our community. Our editorial board meets every Monday at 9:30 AM. Editorials air Tuesdays and Fridays during the noon, 5 o'clock and 10 o'clock newscasts. Tuesdays are "Our Turn" where Lee Meredith, our General Manager, does an editorial. Then Fridays are "Your Turn" where viewer's comments are read, usually as a rebuttal to an "Our Turn". They can be viewed online. Feedback is encouraged from viewers in the form of questions or comments.

Our Turn: Restructured Pay Plan for Mayor-President 01/03/2017

The East Baton Rouge Metro Council made the right call when it moved a year ago, to restructure the pay plan for the next mayor-president.

As Kip Holden leaves office, he will collect a check for about $75,000 for unused vacation time and a similar payment for unused sick leave. According to the Advocate, a spokesman for Holden said he did not claim a single day of vacation or sick leave during his 12 years as mayor-president, and the newspaper reports he also did not mark his days off like other government employees are required to do.

This practice is not new with Holden, but it's a welcome change that the Metro Council saw fit to increase the new mayor's pay and eliminate the policy allowing the mayor to accumulate unused sick leave and vacation time. It's also a plus that the council took this action more than a year ago, before we knew who the new mayor would be. That goes a long way toward removing politics from the matter.

The new mayor will earn a flat salary of $175,000 per year.

That's "Our Turn." Now, it's your turn. To comment on this segment or anything else, visit us on Facebook or send an email to yourturn@wafb.com.

Your Turn: Walker and Denham Springs Lawsuit 01/06/2017

This week's Your Turn segment goes to Judith Sibley. Sibley and many other people reacted on our Facebook page this week to the story about the cities of Walker and Denham Springs suing the state over the concrete wall on the Interstate. Some city leaders believe the wall contributed to more flooding in their communities. Some people support the lawsuit, but others like Sibley think it's a mistake. In her words:

It was an act of nature. Concrete wall or not, it's like New Orleans. It was unavoidable. Flooding would have occurred anyway. People, please stop being so "sue happy" and lining the attorneys' pockets. All you're doing is making the lawyers rich and bankrupting our State. Enough already. If you don't like it, move to higher ground. I'm sure you'll find something wrong there as well.

That's Judith Sibley's turn. Now it's your turn. To comment on this segment or anything else, visit us on Facebook or send an email to yourturn@wafb.com.

Your Turn: Council on Aging Budget Problems 01/10/2017

Voters were very generous last fall when they approved a property tax that will generate $8 million a year for the next decade to fund the East Baton Rouge Council on Aging.

In an investigation published in last week's Business Report, Stephanie Riegel documented problems the Council on Aging has had before, during and after the election.

Before the election, there were questions about pay practices and a failed bingo hall. During the election, there were allegations about violations of campaign laws. The agency's own attorney acknowledges that mistakes were made. And now after the election, there are questions about how an agency that struggled to handle a $3 million a year budget will be up to the task of handling one that's more than twice as big.

Baton Rouge citizens obviously voted with their hearts to support our senior citizens. We need to pressure the folks at the Council on Aging to use their heads when they spend the money that we are giving them.

That's "Our Turn." Now, it's your turn. To comment on this segment or anything else, visit us on Facebook or send an email to yourturn@wafb.com.

Your Turn: Pedestrian Safety 01/17/2017

We get sick of hearing about those lists that rank states and cities based on positive or negative attributes, especially the negative ones.

Again last week, Louisiana found itself near the bottom of the list as it was called out as the third most dangerous state in the country for pedestrian safety. Baton Rouge had the distinction of ranking worst among Louisiana cities, landing in the bottom 20 of US cities on the Pedestrian Danger Index compiled by the group, Smart Growth America.

The people who put out the report blame poor street design for many of the fatalities. Baton Rouge city officials acknowledge that many older streets are dangerous for pedestrians to navigate, but they say newer streets are built to better standards. Speed is also a factor in many of the deaths. It's important to remember that almost all of these accidents are preventable. We can go a long way toward improving this problem by behaving responsibly and teaching our children proper safety practices beginning at an early age.

That's "Our Turn." Now, it's your turn. To comment on this segment or anything else, visit us on Facebook or send an email to yourturn@wafb.com.

Your Turn: Richmond Attending Inauguration 01/20/2017

This week's Your Turn segment goes to Allison Raquel Kesner. Kesner and many other people reacted on our Facebook page this week to the story about Congressman Cedric's Richmond's decision to attend the inauguration of President Donald Trump.

More than 60 of Richmond's fellow congressional Democrats are refusing to attend. Kesner supports the Congressman Richmond's decision. In her words:

What I am looking at right now and from him and every other political figure, is those who are going to work together for the benefit of our entire country, not just a select few. I'm glad he's not a congressman who casts aside one portion of voters for the other. He is representing all of us. This man is everyone's congressman. He is helping to bridge the gap so things can get done.

That's Allison Kesner's turn. Now it's your turn. To comment on this segment or anything else, visit us on Facebook or send an email to yourturn@wafb.com.

Our Turn: Comite River Diversion Canal Project 01/24/2017

The state's legislative auditor last week completed his report on the status of the Comite River Diversion Canal project. This is a tale of woe which reveals the absolute worst about government efficiency.

While there is disagreement about how helpful the canal would have been in the August flood, the consensus is that many homes would have been spared if it had been completed. The auditor's report now formally raises the question about whether it should be completed, whether it should be reviewed as part of a more comprehensive plan, or even if it should be scrapped altogether.

Folks, here is what cannot happen. We cannot wait nine years to come up with another plan. That's how long it took start the Comite Canal project. Most importantly, we cannot fool around for 25 years trying to finish a canal that everyone agreed was a good idea. The disaster of the flood creates a sense of urgency we must act on. Every day that urgency subsides, and before you know it 33 years passes and nothing's been done.

That's "Our Turn." Now, it's your turn. To comment on this segment or anything else, visit us on Facebook or send an email to yourturn@wafb.com.

Your Turn: Stolen Rocking Chairs 01/27/2017

This week's Your Turn segment goes to Michelle Schroll. Schroll left a thank you note for the WAFB news team on Facebook after our coverage of a story that impacted her family.

A thief stole two special memorial rocking chairs from the front porch of Schroll's sister's house in Gonzales. Someone who saw our story spotted the chairs and Baton Rouge Police were able to recover them. Schroll is grateful. In her words:

Such a great moment. We could not have made this happen without the help of the fabulous Cheryl Mercedes, her photographer and WAFB for airing the story, the Ascension and Baton Rouge Police departments, all of you amazing people who shared this story and the wonderful Good Samaritan who called Crime Stoppers. Louisiana people are wonderful and join together to help complete strangers. Sure makes my heart happy.

Your Turn: LSU Recruiting class 02/03/2017

This week's Your Turn segment goes to Conrad Naquin. Naquin and others went to our Facebook page to discuss their excitement about the job that LSU head football coach Ed Orgeron and his team did with the recruiting class of 2017. The school landed a group of recruits ranked in the top 10 in the nation and Naquin thinks Orgeron deserves the credit. In his words:

That's why he's so successful. Players love his passion of football. That's how he coaches - with passion. His assistant coaches also coach with passion. They love the game so much and players love that about a coach. He's a great teacher. I played against his high school team with him and Bobby Hebert. They won the 1977 state championship that year. He's just a winner and that's what makes him great.

That's Conrad Naquin's turn. Now it's your turn. To comment on this segment or anything else, visit us on Facebook or send an email to yourturn@wafb.com.

Your Turn: Budget Crisis Needs Something New to be 'News' 2/7/2017

The word "news" implies information that was previously unknown – something new. So by that definition, it's hardly worth noting at all that the state of Louisiana has another budget shortfall. Of course, we do. Or that a special session of lawmakers will be convened at taxpayer expense to try to patch something together. We know what that will be like. Or that the governor's plan to solve the crisis involves the use of one-time rainy day fund money to cover every day operating expenses. That's the same thing the last governor did.

Please excuse our sarcasm. We are certainly hopeful that our leaders will do the right thing to solve the state's newest budget shortfall. But we're also pretty sure that will do nothing to prevent the next one which will be right around the corner.

What we really need are some innovators who have an interest in solving the state's financial issues on a long term basis. If some people would step up to do that, that would be news – big news.

That's "Our Turn." Now, it's your turn. To comment on this segment or anything else, visit us on Facebook or send an email to yourturn@wafb.com.

Your Turn: Tornado Coverage 02/10/2017

This week's Your Turn segment goes to John Matessino. Matessino sent an email to thank Jay Grymes and the First Alert Storm Team for their work during the tornadoes on Tuesday.

Many other people expressed similar sentiments on our Facebook page and hundreds of people sent comments, pictures and videos during the storms, which greatly helped our coverage. Here's Matessino's email in his words:

Jay, just wanted to say thanks to you and the entire team at WAFB for the coverage yesterday of the storms that came upon us. Those storms moved so fast but so did the team there. You were calling a tornado on the ground in Killian before the National Weather Service. No doubt, the fact we made it through those storms with no fatalities is due in part to the reporting, warnings and advice from the professionals at WAFB. Great job! Thanks!

Your Turn: Contractor Arrest 02/17/2017

This week's Your Turn segment goes to Charlene Johnson-Jones. Johnson-Jones and others reacted this week on our Facebook page to yet another story about a contractor being arrested for allegedly bilking flood victims out of thousands of dollars.

Johnson-Jones was happy about this latest arrest. In her words:

Get them -- all of them who are taking advantage of our citizens trying to rebuild their lives. They come from miles around and also live right here to do just that, take advantage of people. All are not crooks, but report and catch the ones who are. Times are hard and people are stressed out enough trying to get back to normal. Prayers for discernment so people will be able to spot a crook and send them on their way.

That's Charlene Johnson-Jones' turn. Now it's your turn. To comment on this segment or anything else, visit us on Facebook or send an email to yourturn@wafb.com.

Your Turn: Amputee Pup Paws at Heartstrings

This week's Your Turn segment goes to Danielle Connelly. Connelly had some nice things to say on our Facebook page after she saw our story about the LSU Veterinary Teaching Hospital. Vets in the ER there saved the life of a dog, but had to amputate its leg.

In Connelly's words:

Having to make the decision that amputation is the best course of action for your pet is tough, but tripod-pets are extra awesome, and they adapt better than you could imagine. And I'm so glad this article mentions the LSU Veterinary Teaching Hospital because they do excellent work and all levels of staff are always wonderful with our pups, especially the three-legged ones. Thanks for this story. Seeing how a recovered amputee pup can still act like any other pup might help make this hard decision a little easier for someone.

Our Turn: Vickie Williams-Tillman 2/21/2017

What a joy it is for us to be able to recognize the heroism of Vickie Williams-Tillman.

She's the 56-year-old woman who risked her own life to help a Baton Rouge police officer who was violently attacked by a drug suspect Sunday morning.

When Williams-Tillman saw the struggle she immediately called 911, and then, she did something truly heroic. She rolled down the window of her car and called out to the officer to see if he needed help. She said she could not hear his response, but she could see in his eyes that he did need help, and she said that she did what God needed her to do. She jumped on the suspect's back during the struggle and grabbed his arm to prevent his hand from reaching the officer's gun.

Like so many true heroes, Williams-Tillman was modest and self-deprecating about her achievement, although she did volunteer that she's always been a "tough cookie." Vickie Williams-Tillman, you are our hero. Thank you.

That's "Our Turn." Now, it's your turn. To comment on this segment or anything else, visit us on Facebook or send an email to yourturn@wafb.com.

Our Turn: Louisiana State Police Travel Scandal 2/28/2017

The travel scandal involving the Louisiana State Police department is a serious matter. The four-day joy ride to San Diego that included a sightseeing stop at the Grand Canyon and a night of partying in a fancy Las Vegas casino cannot at this moment be excused as an aberration.

The bad decisions were made by troopers at the highest levels of the department, and every aspect of this situation shows that state police were tone deaf to what is actually going on in Louisiana. We're having to cut TOPS scholarships and medical care, but this police agency apparently has enough money to allow officers to pad their timesheets.

One of the state's top leaders is now calling for the resignation of State Police Superintendent Mike Edmonson. Edmonson says he won't offer that.

If he expects to keep his job and restore the reputation of his department, he should invite a full investigation of the matter by an outside entity with the power to subpoena witnesses. Anything less is going fall short.

That's "Our Turn." Now, it's your turn. To comment on this segment or anything else, visit us on Facebook or send an email to yourturn@wafb.com.

Your Turn: Response from Government in wake of flooding 3/10/2017

This week's Your Turn segment goes to Aimee Bajoie. Bajoie and others took to our Facebook page to complain about the government's response to contractor fraud in the wake of last year's flooding. Our Lead Investigator Kiran Chawla interviewed the state attorney general and other law enforcement officials about the difficulty people are having in prosecuting fraud cases and receiving restitution. Bajoie says she's gotten the same runaround.

In her words:

I contacted local police and was told there was no point in filing a claim because there was nothing they could do, and that I should obtain a lawyer. I filed report with the Attorney General's office, and was told there was nothing they could do. I filed suit in Baton Rouge court, and was told that contractor won't open door, so they can't serve him. There is no help with fraud, and no one cares. This is why these crooks continue to cheat people.

Your Turn: Retirement of Col Edmonson 3/17/2017

This week's Your Turn segment goes to Gwen Cavalier. Cavalier is disappointed about the resignation of Louisiana State Police Superintendent Col. Mike Edmonson.

Edmonson announced his retirement this week in the wake of questions about overtime and travel expenses associated with a law enforcement conference in California.

Cavalier blames investigative reporting for his departure.

In her words:

I am disappointed to see Col. Edmonson resign. I was also disappointed when Warden Burl Cain resigned. I feel both of these men were doing an excellent job and were men of integrity. Destructive, judgmental reporting seemed to be their demise. No one is perfect. We all have a log in our eye trying to remove a splinter from our brother. Some stories are blown up so that the story is worse than the facts. Report but don't hound it. Put the facts out and let them make things right.

That's Gwen Cavalier's turn. Now it's your turn.

Our Turn: Fallen Deputy 3/21/2017

You can't describe in words how much it hurts to go to the Facebook page of Shawn Anderson and look at the photo of him and his young children, or to see the video of him holding the infant Declan Walsh, a baby he helped deliver because Declan's parents could not make it to the hospital in time.

The family members, friends, and coworkers of East Baton Rouge Sheriff's Office Sgt. Shawn Anderson will never have to wonder if he made a difference in the lives of others.

The evidence is all around us. His life was one of service to community. Our thoughts and prayers go out to Sgt. Anderson's family. We must never take for granted the sacrifices that those in law enforcement, and their families, make to preserve our safety and security.

That's "Our Turn." Now, it's your turn. To comment on this segment or anything else, visit us on Facebook or send an email to yourturn@wafb.com.

Your Turn: Heartbroken Community 3/24/2017

This week's Your Turn segment goes to Brenda Neely.

Neely is one of hundreds of people who went to our Facebook page this week to express thoughts and prayers about the death of East Baton Rouge Sheriff's Lt. Shawn Anderson. Neely and many of the others described themselves as heartbroken. In her words:

I am the mother of a child in law enforcement and I have no words. Another family will not see their loved one come home from doing their job. I can only pray for this family and ask God to watch over them as they lay Shawn to rest. I pray that God step in to our communities and take control of all the unnecessary violence. God, I ask for a big prayer that you surround our law enforcement officers and cover them from the top of their heads to bottom of their feet as they step out today and every day.

That's Brenda Neely's turn. Now it's your turn. To comment on this segment or anything else, visit us on Facebook or send an email to yourturn@wafb.com.

Your Turn: Heartbroken Community 3/31/2017

This week's Your Turn segment goes to Wanda Richard.

Richard is one of dozens of people who reacted on our Facebook page to the story this week about a lawsuit filed by Louisiana death row inmates. The inmates are alleging that their constitutional rights are being violated because they are kept in isolation more than 23 hours a day.

Richard is not sympathetic. In her words:

"I don't understand the fact that death row inmates have any rights. When in prison, you are there as a punishment. When I got punished as a child I had no TV, no phone or anything but books to keep me company. This country has turned into a bunch of wimps. Why are we so afraid to offend prisoners, least of all those on death row? This is just ridiculous. They are already getting three meals a day and a bed to sleep in which is more than some homeless vets get. "

That's Wanda Richard's turn. Now it's your turn. To comment on this segment or anything else, visit us on Facebook or send an email to yourturn@wafb.com
